

TESTIMONY FROM STEF ZAK

Personal Assistant, Videographer and Sister of Elena Danaan

We were close, calling each other my brother, my sister... and then there were some issues with the Japan conference. Miyoko had asked the speakers to buy their tickets well in advance so that they could benefit from reasonable prices. Jean-Charles and Mélanie took too long to get the tickets, and Miyoko couldn't afford the price. Jean-Charles didn't want to leave without Mélanie and first-class tickets. Mélanie was not scheduled to speak at the conference. I should mention that Miyoko did not pay for my ticket, so it is not clear why she was asked to pay for Mélanie's ticket, given that Mélanie was not scheduled to speak. Jean-Charles involved Elena in this situation, attempting to get her to support his perspective. However, Elena declined. She attempted to find ways to resolve the situation, but did not align herself with either of them. Jean-Charles persistently sent messages to Elena, and she decided to maintain her distance. This was the first point of divergence between Jean-Charles and Elena. As a result, JC and M had a divergence of opinion with Miyoko, and their participation in the film shoot in Japan was no longer a possibility.

JC contacted me by private message, because he was in a panic that my sister 'didn't love him anymore' and he added as a brother, because she refused to take his side in the argument with Miyoko. But my sister didn't want to hear any more about it, because in the end, it was between Miyoko and JC ... But it was obsessed that she never wanted to speak to him again.

On 12 August 2024, I learned through an email from Mariko Kamimura to my sister that JC and M were finally going to Japan, and that Mariko was going to organise conferences for them at the same time as Miyoko. At 11pm, I decided to ask JC whether he was coming or not.

He informed me one hour later that they were not able to attend, as they would have liked to, but that financial constraints were a barrier.

An hour and a half later, we received a message from Mélanie informing us that they had finally found tickets and were planning to come to Japan.

We knew they were coming, and we also knew that Mariko was starting to criticise Miyoko and make her look like a slut (Yes, you read that right), in the Japanese ufology community, we called in Dani Henderson to mediate between Miyoko and JC and Melanie. It was agreed that they would speak for 1 hour at Miyoko's conference.

"I offered to help Miyoko, Jean-Charles and Melanie mediate, as I could see the damage happening in the disclosure movement and after Jean-Charles publicly shamed Miyoko I stepped into support her. Without me, Melanie would NEVER have spoken on that stage." -Dani Henderson

We told them in private messages what we thought of their attitude, and they still positioned themselves as victims, even though they'd had a tantrum about the tickets and wanted Miyoko to pay for everything...

Once we'd said that, we moved on, but trust was fragile because they'd lied to us.

During the Denver conference, during a day I spent with Mélanie, we talked about Japan. She explained to me that JC cried a lot because Elena was distant, and that he was very affected by this ... She tried to turn my brain against my sister, telling me it wasn't right what she was doing by not wanting to talk. And Melanie asked me to try and change her mind and have a chat with them...

The Denver conference passes... Dani Henderson, the organiser and founder of the GSIC, decided not to renew JC and M's contract for 2025, as she is organizing smaller events this year.

Meanwhile, Dani shares the news of JC's recent actions, which have caused some concern. He has requested that Dani send payment via GoFundMe for their performance at GSIC in Denver, as this would allow them to avoid paying tax. Dani respectfully declines, as her organisation's values are rooted in transparency and integrity. Shortly afterwards, Dani receives an email from Amanda, her assistant, informing her that JC has contacted her regarding the GoFundMe initiative; JC assured Amanda that Dani has consented to the arrangement.

Two days later, Kevin Luengo posted on the Denver flyover. He stated that although he wasn't there, it wasn't spaceships, it was geese. Have you ever seen geese flashing? In his video, he deliberately selected only small parts of videos made by others, thereby insulting his Mufon colleague Karen Hill (President of Mufon Tucson), who was present and filmed with night vision.

I was informed by someone I trust that JC and M were behind all of Kevin Luengo's relentlessness. They told this person: 'We asked Kevin to do it!'

Kevin then created a public Telegram group, where everyone came to pour out incredible hatred against Elena, criticising her on her looks, questioning her mental health and her diplomas.

It's a really horrible thing to do...

And it's been escalating ever since, using everyone to turn them against my sister, harassing the organiser of the 'Rencontres Galactiques' French conference, turning the head of David Rousseau, whom we adored, and without the intervention of the organiser of the 'Rencontres Galactiques', the defamatory article he published in his newspaper ADNⁿ 5 would have clearly mentioned Elena's name.

They had NO PLATFORM, barely any following and Dani Henderson gave them 3 years of GSIC to support their work because she loved and trusted them and all they said - Elena built them up on her channel, advised and guided them for years. They did not support the fly over, and they created false accounts, Melanie is Fire Dragon and Jean-Charles is Gloria Starseed (among other multiple pseudo with same @address) and they used these false accounts to attack Elena in public, accuse her of plagiarizing, yet this is exactly what they have done - they bit the hand that supported them and wanted to be the ones to bring the space craft, the ultimate proof of contact, but it was Elena Danaan who was the one and since this, JC and Mel have attacked, attacked attacked... they destroyed their own path with ego, obsession for fame and dishonesty.

You know, they say that love makes you blind... Well, we loved them so much that we were blind...

Elena always promoted JC's films because he was stalking her, he identified us in each of his Facebook posts promoting his films to get as many views as possible, Elena made a lot of videos with them on her channel. Yes, she deleted them... Do you want to know why? I'll tell you: when did you see Jean-Charles or Mélanie promoting my sister's books? Answer: NEVER !!!! They haven't even opened one of her books... But we have seen their films and loved them... Very good fiction for an amateur!

I also remember once sending JC a YouTube link to a guy who was disrespectfully mocking my sister, so he could report it to YouTube.

JC's first reaction: 'He's talking about me?' I told him no, it's about my sister...

After watching the video, he said: Oh, it's OK, he only talks about me for 10 seconds...

That should have tipped me off, but as I said... We were blinded.

JC also had a bit of an obsession with Elena; if he didn't hear from her, he would contact me to see if everything was OK and he seemed very anxious. At the Japan conference, when she was on stage, he couldn't take his eyes off her, and that evening he contacted me to say that he had taken some "superb pictures" of her. And he added a message to Elena: "Elena, you were beautiful on stage".

In conclusion, I'd like to add that this story has made me grow up, and I've learnt that compassion heals. I've turned the page, and they're no longer part of my life. Let them go their way, I'll go mine. I have compassion for them, but I don't forgive their lies and all the harm they've caused to the people I love. First my sister, then Dani and then Miyoko.
